Parshas: Re'eh

Moses informs the Jewish people that we each face a choice; choose to observe G-d's directions for living (i.e. the Torah) and receive blessings, or choose to ignore G-d and experience estrangement and its consequences. Moses then turns to describing a number of religious, civil and social laws relevant once the Jewish people enter the Promised Land. Included in this listing are:

- Don't imitate the ways of the nations surrounding you
- A false prophet who attempts to entice you to idolatry should be put to death
- Since the Torah is complete and perfect, nothing may be added to or subtracted from it
- Self infliction of wounds on the body as a sign of mourning is prohibited
- As a holy people, refrain from eating non-kosher food
- Be particularly warm-hearted and charitable. Many laws and guidelines concerning tzedaka (righteous giving) are found in this week's portion
- The three pilgrimage festivals (Passover, Shavous and Sukkos) are opportunities to ascend (make aliyah) to Jerusalem and the Temple to celebrate our blessings

Elul

In the month of Elul we begin to recite Psalm 27 in the shacharis and mincha (morning and afternoon) services. Psalm 27 begins with the words "To David: The L-rd is my light and my salvation." The Midrash tells us that "my light" (אורִי) is associated with Rosh Hashanah and "my salvation" (יִשְׁעִי) is associated with Yom Kippur. We also find that a later verse in the Psalm, "That He will hide me in His tabernacle . . ." (כִּי יִצְפְּנִי בְּסֻכּוֹ), is associated with Sukkos. In this Psalm, King David exclaims: "One thing I ask... is to dwell in the house of God all the days of my life." We focus on the unifying force of G-d in our lives, and strive to increase our connection to Him as we begin the month of Elul.

High Holiday Seating

It is now mid-Summer, and Rosh Hashanah is just around the corner!

That means it is time to review and update the reserved seating chart for Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur. We have reserved seats for members so that they can be seated with friends and family, and can come and go throughout services while being assured that they can return to the same seat. This ensures that we will have a seat for each member throughout services.

If you are a new member this year, we will assign you a reserved seat for the holidays. If you want to sit in a particular location - front, back, side, near a relative or whatever - please contact Jeff in the office, and we will try to accommodate your preference.

This year we are trying to make our seating more efficient. If you were a member last year, there is a slight chance that your seat assignment will be different this year. If you would like to confirm or change your seat, please contact Jeff in the office.

If you will not be using your seat this year, please let us know.
