President's Message

Our Special Gifts Campaign has a few more weeks to run. Most of you realize that dues do not cover all of our expenses. The rest is covered by your generous donations throughout the year. A "special gift" is an unrestricted gift to NHBZ above and beyond regular donations. We have accomplished much in the last few years. Look around – our new building, our many new members, our wonderful Learners Service and numerous classes. This is an opportunity for you to fulfill a mitzvah and help to ensure our continued success. Please respond generously. We welcome gifts of any amount, but if you are able to give a minimum of $250, you will be invited to the Special Gifts "thank you" dinner. NOTE that the Special Gifts Dinner has been moved back two weeks until June 1 due to an overlooked calendar conflict. I hope to see you at the 2014 Special Gifts Dinner!

Please sign up now to have your picture taken for our 2014 Photo Directory. Sessions will be Wednesdays & Thursdays, June 11 & 12 and 18 & 19. Schedule your appointment on-line (see instructions elsewhere in the bulletin), or call Phyllis Silverman. If you can't make these times, it is possible you might be able to schedule time at another location. Call Phyllis for details.

Shavuos is just a few weeks away - Tuesday Night, Wednesday and Thursday, June 3, 4 and 5. It is a mitzvah to attend a seudah, a festive meal, on Shavuos, and it is customary to spend extra time studying Torah. So, on Tuesday Night, June 3, following services, we will have a Shavuos Seudah followed by Early-Bird Learning. The seudah is being planned by our exceptional chef Norma Rubin, with Robin Rickerman as the event Chairman. Please RSVP by Wednesday, May 28, so we can prepare for the right number of people. Reservations are a MUST! Cost of the meal will be $12 per person.

Among the classes will be:

- "Jews Estranged from Judaism: The Mortara Affair," led by Rabbi Smason and
- "The Mystery and Meaning of Yizkor" led by Dr. Ethan Schuman

After that, for those who are interested, there will be all-night learning and an early Shachris and Musaf minyan.

Beyond Twelve Gates by Rabbi Ze'ev Smason
Parshas Bechukosai May 17, 2014

Welcome to Beyond Twelve Gates

A British think tank looking at national well-being has released some research into the most satisfying careers. The most well-paid aren't the happiest, according to the results. Members of the clergy are the most satisfied of all. They're followed by highly paid chief executives, but at number four another low-paid profession, that of company secretary, pops up. Lowest on the rung of life satisfaction in the UK survey, out of 274 occupations, are plastics process operatives and bar staff.

The British results echo those of a similar 2006 American study. Firefighters, the clergy and others with professional jobs that involve helping or serving people were found to be more satisfied with their work and happier than those in other professions, according to results from a national survey. Tom Smith, survey director, said, "The most satisfying jobs are mostly professions, especially those involving caring for, teaching and protecting others and creative pursuits."

The happiest people do not necessarily have the 'best' things. They simply appreciate the things they have. This timeless idea is expressed in our tradition as follows: "Who is wealthy? The one who is happy with their lot." (Pirkei Avos 4:1)

Bechukosai Leviticus 26:3 -- 27:34

Bechukosai, the last Torah portion in the book of Leviticus, begins by briefly listing some of the blessings and rewards that the Jewish people will receive for diligently learning and following the Torah. The Portion then shifts to the subject matter which has made it famous -- G-d's admonitions and warnings of the consequences if the Jewish people abandon the Torah. Step by step, the Torah describes the tragedies which will befall the Jewish people if they abandon observance of the Torah, providing an eerie account of what has been part of our history to this day. There is good news, however; teshuva (return or repentance) is possible at any time to avert an otherwise harsh decree. The book of Leviticus concludes with a brief discussion of tithes.

Rabbinic Ruminations

Some animals instinctively know how to change -- but none quite like the European eel. Female eels spawn in the Sargasso Sea (a region in the middle of the North Atlantic Ocean) at a depth of 1,600 feet, whereupon they die. The transparent and hardly visible larvae hatch, at the size of about an inch, and migrate toward Europe in a 3-year-long trip, mainly drawn by the Gulf Stream. During their migration they reach the length of 3 inches, become more solid and round, but they are still largely transparent. As they approach the river deltas they change from saltwater fish into freshwater fish, and their bellies become yellow-brown, which is thought to act as camouflage and protect them from predators. They swim upstream into the rivers and lakes inland, reaching a length of 6 feet.

Six years later the eels return from the rivers to the sea. Those that lived in lakes will even leave the water and travel over moist ground cover to reach an ocean-bound stream. On the last leg of their journey in returning to the Sargasso Sea, the eel's body takes on a silver pigmentation and they return to being saltwater fish.

The European eel changes instinctively. Humans can also change. How? The Sefer HaChinuch, ("The Book of Instruction") a classic Jewish work on the 613 Commandments, writes: "A person is changed by his actions" (Mitzvah 16). We become the way we behave -- not immediately, but slowly, as the years progress and as our behavior becomes ingrained. Act in a certain way -- whether we mean it or not -- and it will become second nature. We will not only accustom ourselves to that behavior, but it will become who we are as well. It is in our hands to change our hearts.

Quote of the Week

"I'm bored" is a useless thing to say. I mean, you live in a great, big, vast world . . . Even the inside of your own mind is endless; it goes on forever, inwardly, do you understand? That you're alive is amazing, so you don't get to say "I'm bored." -- Louis C.K. (comedian, screenwriter, producer)

Joke of the Week

The children were lined up for lunch in the cafeteria of a Jewish elementary school. At the head of the table was a large pile of apples. The Rabbi made a note and posted on the apple tray: "Take only ONE. G-d is watching."

Moving further along the lunch line, at the other end of the table was a large pile of chocolate chip cookies. A child had written a note, "Take all you want. G-d is watching the apples."
