Beyond Twelve Gates by Rabbi Ze'ev Smason

Beyond Twelve Gates' refers to a beautiful concept taught by the great mystic Rabbi Isaac Luria (1534-1572), also known as The Ari'. There exist twelve gates of prayer in Heaven — one for each tribe of Israel. There also exists a Heavenly thirteenth gate. Through this gate the prayers of all Jews, regardless of tribe, Jewish education or level of observance, are allowed to enter and are heard by G-d.

Parshas Shelach

Welcome to Beyond Twelve Gates

Jason West disagreed with a $25 bill he received from a medical clinic. Since the clinic accepted cash payments, the 38-year-old Utah man showed up with 2,500 pennies, dumped the coins on the counter and insisted that staffers at the front desk count them. According to the police report, many of the pennies overflowed and cascaded onto the floor, so Mr. West was charged with disorderly conduct. The result of Jason West's tantrum: a few seconds of satisfaction, a few days of media fame and a possible $140 fine. Or more like 14,000 pennies.

This story clearly speaks to the frustrations and irritations we all have experienced. But in the words of Will Rogers, "People who fly into a rage always make a bad landing." Anger can take many forms; a heated argument, blowing a fuse, or simply fuming with aggravation. The Torah perspective is that while we may not be in control of what happens, we are certainly in control of how we deal with what happens. Proverbs 16:32 says, "He who is slow to anger is better than a strong man, and master of his passions is better than a conqueror of a city." Control your anger - don't let your anger control you.

Parshas Shelach - Numbers 13:1 - 15:41

Moses is pressed by the Jewish people to send twelve spies to the Land of Canaan (later to be called the Land of Israel). Forty days later they return carrying a gigantic cluster of grapes and two other large fruits. Ten of the spies warn that the inhabitants of the land are enormous in size and that the land 'consumes its inhabitants'. They convince the people that the land can't be conquered. Caleb and Joshua retain their faith in G-d, insisting that the Jewish people can, indeed, conquer the land.

The people weep and proclaim that they'd rather return to Egypt. This tenth expression of a profound lack of faith in G-d prompts a Divine decree that entry into the Land should be delayed forty years. This decree was made on the ninth of the Hebrew month of Av -- known as Tisha B'Av. Numerous other tragedies occurred on Tisha B'Av, including the destruction of the first and second Temples and the expulsion of Spanish Jewry in 1492.

Parshas Shelach concludes with the command to place fringes (tzitzis) on the corners of a four-corned garment. Tzitzis help us to remember to fulfill all of the Divine commandments. This reminds me of the story of the rabbi who asked his synagogue's Board of Directors if they would supply him with a new talis once every six months. They told him, "We're sorry, Rabbi. We can't afford the fringe benefits."

Rabbinic Ruminations

Does grammar affect art? Leading Russian painter Ilya Repin (d. 1930) was baffled as to why 'sin' had been depicted as a woman by German artists: he did not realize that 'sin' is feminine in German (die Sünde), but masculine in Russian (rpex). A recent study analyzed various works of art to discover whether the grammatical gender of nouns in an artist's native language predicts the gender of personifications in art. The results showed that grammatical gender predicted personified gender in 78% of the cases, significantly more often than if the two factors were independent. This analysis confirms an idea well known in traditional Jewish consciousness: A relationship exists between linguistic structure and patterns in culture and cognition.

Language shapes our reality. Multiple Torah sources emphasize the importance of avoiding coarse and profane speech. In Leviticus we read an enigmatic instruction:

Kedoshim tihyu, "Be holy." Our sages explain that the Hebrew word kadosh, which is normally translated as 'holy', actually means to be 'distinct' or 'separate.' Thus, these words are actually a commandment to separate ourselves. Separate from what? From vulgar language, for one. A crude person can internally become more refined if he improves the way he speaks. Be careful of the words that leave your mouth; grammar affects art, and our speech shapes who we become.

Quote of the Week

"It's not enough to be busy. So are the ants. The question is, 'what are we busy about?'" -- Henry David Thoreau.

Joke of the Week

A Jewish mother sent her son off to his first day of school with the customary pride and precautionary advice: "So Bubeleh, you'll be a good boy and listen to the teacher? And you won't make noise, Bubeleh, and you'll be very polite and play nice with the other children. And when it's time to come home, you'll button up warm, so you won't catch cold, Bubeleh. And Bubeleh, be careful crossing the street and come straight home." Off the little boy went. When he returned that afternoon, his mother hugged him and kissed him and exclaimed, "So did you like school, Bubeleh? You made new friends? You learned something Bubeleh?"

"Yes, Mama," said the boy. "I learned my name is Irving."

Need Cash? Want to help NHBZ?

Do you have some gold and silver to sell?
Well, do we have a deal for you!

Dr. Ethan and Debby Schuman will host a "Gold & Silver" party at their home on Sunday, July 10, between 10 A.M. and Noon as a fundraiser for Nusach Hari Bnai Zion. Preferably by appointment on that day, members can bring their unused or broken gold and silver jewelry, and Mr. Ryan Erbe of G.P. Latinum Trading Company will estimate the value of your items and pay you cash for anything he purchases. NHBZ will get a percentage of each sale.

Mr. Erbe will speak at the Sisterhood Luncheon on June 21 on the topic of "Your Gold and Silver" in preparation for the "Gold & Silver" party.

Stay tuned for more details!
