Parshas Chayei Sarah

Chayei Sarah begins with Sarah's death at the age of 127 and Abraham's search for a proper burial place which would be worthy of her greatness. Abraham is conned by Efron (a member of the Hittite nation who lived in the land of Israel) into paying an extremely large sum of money for her place of burial. Sarah is buried in M'arat HaMachpelah - the Tomb of the Patriarchs - in Hebron. Do you know who else is buried there? (answer: Adam & Eve, Isaac & Rebecca, Jacob & Leah ....in addition to Abraham and Sarah). Abraham sends his faithful servant Eliezer back to the old country (Aram Naharaim) to find a suitable wife for Isaac. Eliezer devises a plan by which he will find a modest, generous and kind girl fitting for his master's son. Eliezer decides to stand by the town's well, waiting for a girl to offer water to him and his camels. Suddenly Rebecca appears and exerts great effort to draw water for a stranger and his ten camels. She brings Eliezer to her father's house, whereupon Abraham's servant asks that Rebecca return with him to marry Isaac. She accepts, and they are married. The Torah states that "Isaac married Rebecca ....and he loved her." This teaches us that true love comes after marriage, not before.

NOVEMBER 14

Volume 3

Number 37

27 Cheshvan 5781

November 14, 2020

Book Club News

Because the original book selected for December (Footprints on the Heart by Jean Naggar) has been difficult to obtain, our book club will instead be reading "How to Fight Anti-Semitism," by Bari Weiss. The Zoom discussion will be Monday, Dec. 21, 7:15-8:45pm. Bari Weiss, the featured speaker at the recent JFed's Women's Philanthropy event, is the former op-ed staff editor for The New York Times. Her important book is a worthy, concise brief against modern-day anti-Semitism. The Guardian writes: "Her childhood synagogue in Pittsburgh was the site of last year's Shabbat morning massacre. This passionate, vividly written, regularly insightful book is her pained, fighting elegy."

Save the date for the February 22 book club meeting when we will read "Noah's Wife," by Lindsay Starck, a gorgeously written, brilliantly introspective, fable-like novel reimagining Noah's Ark for our modern times.

To join Sisterhood's Book Club, or, to suggest a book to read, call Terri Schnitzer 314-518-4107 terrischnitzer@yahoo.com

Upcoming books under consideration:

Finding Dorothy by Elizabeth Letts

Footprints on the Heart by Jean Naggar (if available)

"A Journey of a Thousand Miles" Chayei Sarah (Genesis 23:1-25:18)

- adapted from Rabbi Lord Jonathan Sacks (z"l), in his memory

Why Abraham and Sarah died at peace despite their tumultuous lives.

The parsha describes the lives of Abraham and Sarah as good and long and even that they were blessed with everything. "Abraham was old, well advanced in years, and G-d had blessed Abraham with everything" (Gen. 24:1). Yet how is any of this conceivable? Abraham and Sarah were commanded by G-d to leave everything that was familiar: their land, their home, their family, and travel to an unknown land, then forced to leave because of famine. Twice, Abraham's life was at risk; he was driven into exile; remained childless a long time despite repeated Divine promises that they would have as many children as the stars. Then there was the agony of the binding of Isaac. One way or another, neither Abraham nor Sarah had an easy life. Theirs were lives of trial, in which their faith was tested at many points. How can Rashi say that all of Sarah's years were equal in goodness? How can the Torah say that Abraham had been blessed with everything? The unexpected answer is in the parsha itself.

Seven times Abraham had been promised the land. Here is just one: The Lord said to Abram after Lot had parted from him, "Raise your eyes, and, from the place where you are now [standing], look to the north, to the south, to the east, and to the west. All the land that you see I will give to you and your offspring forever.... Go, walk through the length and breadth of the land, for I am giving it to you" (Gen. 13:14-17). Yet by the time Sarah dies, Abraham has no land at all, and is forced to beg for permission to acquire even a single cave in which to bury his wife, and has to pay a massively inflated price.

Then, in relation to children, Abraham is promised four times: "I will make you into a great nation" (12:2). "I will make your offspring like the dust of the earth" (13:16). "Look at the sky and count the stars. See if you can count them." [G-d] then said 'That is how [numerous] your descendants will be.' (15:5). "No longer shall you be called Abram. Your name shall become Abraham, for I have set you up as the father of many nations."

Whether we think of children or the land - the two key Divine promises to Abraham and Sarah - the reality fell far short of what they might have felt entitled to expect.

That, however, is precisely the meaning and message of Chayei Sarah. In it Abraham does two things: he buys the first plot in the land of Canaan, and he arranges for the marriage of Isaac. One field and a cave was, for Abraham, enough for the text to say that "G-d had blessed Abraham with everything." One child, Isaac, by then married and with children (Abraham was 100 when Isaac was born; Isaac was 60 when the twins, Jacob and Esau, were born; and Abraham was 175 when he died) was enough for Abraham to die in peace. Lao-Tzu, the Chinese sage, said that a journey of a thousand miles begins with a single step. To that Judaism adds, "It is not for you to complete the work but neither are you free to desist from it" (Avot 2:16). G-d himself said of Abraham, "For I have chosen him, so that he will direct his children and his household after him to keep the way of the Lord by doing what is right and just, so that the Lord will bring about for Abraham what he has promised him" (Gen. 18:19).

The meaning of this is clear. If you ensure that your children will continue to live for what you have lived for, then you can have faith that they will continue your journey until eventually they reach the destination. Abraham did not need to see all the land in Jewish hands, nor did he need to see the Jewish people become numerous. He had taken the first step. He had begun the task, and he knew that his descendants would continue it. He was able to die serenely because he had faith in G-d and faith that others would complete what he had begun. The same was surely true of Sarah.

To place your life in G-d's hands, to have faith that whatever happens to you happens for a reason, to know that you are part of a larger narrative, and to believe that others will continue what you began, is to achieve a satisfaction in life that cannot be destroyed by circumstance. Abraham and Sarah had that faith, and they were able to die with a sense of fulfillment.

To be happy does not mean that you have everything you want or everything you were promised. It means, simply, to have done what you were called on to do, to have made a beginning, and then to have passed on the baton to the next generation. "The righteous, even in death, are regarded as though they were still alive" (Berachot 18a) because the righteous leave a living trace in those who come after them.

That was enough for Abraham and Sarah, and it must be enough for us.

WE MAKE IT EASY FOR YOU TO SUPPORT THE SHUL

Have you ever thought of making a donation to Nusach Hari B'nai Zion in the form of Stocks?

Pay for your Dues and Pledges!

By donating stock that has appreciated for more than a year, you are actually giving 20 percent more than if you sold the stock and then made a cash donation. The reason is simple: avoiding capital gains taxes. The maximum federal capital gains tax rate is 20 percent on long-term holdings. Given that the stock market has gained so much in the past year, you are likely to realize a taxable profit on the sale of assets you purchased in the past five years. But if you donate the stock directly to a charity, there's no capital gains tax to pay. Plus, you are still eligible to deduct the full fair-market value of the asset you donated from your income taxes, up to the overall amount allowed by the IRS. And remember that your appreciated assets can also include assets that are not publicly traded, like restricted stock or even bitcoin.

There are even more tax incentives for you this year! As shared earlier this year, legislation passed by Congress in reaction to Covid-19 provides an additional incentive to do so. One very important new and additional tax deduction that is now available is a deduction of up to $300 per taxpayer ($600 for a married couple) in annual charitable contributions---uniquely available to people who take the standard deduction (for taxpayers who do not itemize their deductions). It is an "above the line" adjustment to income that will reduce a donor's adjusted gross income, and thereby reduce taxable income. Until Covid-19 and this new legislation, this additional deduction for making a charitable deduction was simply not available for those who do not itemize deductions. It provides a tax break now when one was not available before.

For those who do itemize tax deductions, the normal rules on charitable deductions still apply. In addition, under this new Covid-19 law individuals and corporations that itemize can deduct much greater amounts of their contributions. Individuals can elect to deduct donations up to 100% of their 2020 AGI (up from 60% previously). Corporations may deduct up to 25% of taxable income, up from the previous limit of 10%.

You can donate stocks without headaches

To obtain a deduction for the current tax year, the stock transfer must be completed by December 31. For electronic transfers from your brokerage account, the donation is recorded on the day it is received (not when you approve the transfer). Plan your year-end stock gifts as early as possible and have ongoing communications with your broker to ensure that the transfer takes place. It's something to consider, and very easy to do!!! Just call Andrea Trapet, our stock broker at Edward Jones, 314-351-7194, and tell her, or her assistant Beth, that you would like to donate stock to our shul; Andrea or Beth will take it from there, guiding you along the way. They will notify us of your generous donation – (it is our policy to sell the stock right away, and they will send a check to the shul.)

Please contact Laura at the shul office to let her know of your transfer. Contact your own financial or tax advisor to see how you might benefit from this opportunity in 2020.

Donating your IRA distributions to a charity

Qualified charitable distributions (QCDs) have been permanently extended. Individuals can donate up to $100,000 per year directly from a traditional or Roth IRA to qualifying charities. This is attractive to some investors because QCDs can be used to satisfy required minimum distributions (RMDs) from an IRA without having the distribution included in their income.

Eligibility

A qualified charitable distribution may be made:

- When the IRA holder is age 70½ or older
- Directly from the IRA to a qualified charity
- From a traditional or Roth IRA

Qualified charities

Generally, a qualified charity includes most public charities that are eligible to receive tax-deductible contributions – including religious institutions, certain veterans' organizations, fraternal societies and community foundations that provide scholarships.

Limitations on distributions

Restrictions set on QCDs include the following:

- $100,000 maximum per person per year
- Distributions transferred to the charity no later than Dec. 31 of the current tax year
- Must be a direct IRA distribution from the IRA custodian or trustee to a qualified charity
- Not all charitable organizations qualify
- Applicable only for traditional and Roth IRA distributions (excludes SEP and SIMPLE IRAs)

Making a QCD provides an opportunity to make a charitable contribution that you might otherwise not have been able to make and/or receive potential tax benefits for charitable contributions that you are already making. You should consult your tax advisor and estate-planning attorney about your situation. Edward Jones, its financial advisors and employees do not provide tax or legal advice.

Key benefits

- For those who give larger gifts – Deductibility limits do not apply to QCDs, which means the QCD can be made in addition to other charitable contributions that may be limited by the annual maximum deductible percentage of income or phase-outs of itemized deductions.
- For those who don't itemize deductions – If QCDs are used as the funding source for charitable donations, the donor will receive tax benefits when there otherwise would have been none due to the use of the standard deduction.
- For those who pay taxes on a portion of their Social Security benefits – Income for determining the taxation of Social Security benefits is lower than if the IRA holder had taken the RMD, potentially reducing this taxation.
- For those whose income level subjects them to tax on Net Investment Income, or phase-out of personal exemptions or itemized deductions – A QCD made in lieu of an RMD will result in lower Adjusted Gross Income for the IRA holder, which may lessen the effect of this tax or applicable phase-outs.
