Relocation of Classes

As some of you may know, we have a camp using the Multipurpose and Children's Rooms for the summer. This means that the Rabbis' weekday classes will meet upstairs in the Social Area.

We also made a slight adjustment for Shabbos morning. To accommodate both the Youth Programs and "Soul Building" with Rabbi Yosef David, "Soul Building" will meet in the Chapel (downstairs).

Thank you for your understanding and cooperation!

Parsha Beha'aloscha

In this week's parsha, Miriam is punished with tzaraat for speaking lashon hara about Moshe Rabbeinu. As the Torah dictates that one who is inflicted with tzaraat must remain "outside the camp" until the blemish clears. The people did not journey until Miriam was brought in. It was time for B'nai Yisrael to move on toward Eretz Yisrael, but they were told to wait for Miriam. This gesture, Rashi explains, came in order to honor Miriam for an act of chesed performed many years earlier, as a young girl in Egypt.

When Moshe was three months old, their mother had no choice but to put him in a basket in the river. If the authorities had found him, they would have killed him instantly. Miriam waited a short time by the riverbank to see how he would survive. For that short time that she waited by her brother's side, Hashem honored her, measure for measure, by enjoining all of B'nai Yisrael to wait by her side at her time of need. Nonetheless, Rav Moshe Feinstein, zt"l, asks, why did her reward come at this time, following her sin?

Moshe Rabbeinu asked Hashem a question that continues to be asked today: Why do righteous people suffer? The Talmud tells us Hashem's response. Only a perfect tzaddik does not suffer; but one who is not perfect may suffer.

Miriam lived her life as a perfect tzaddeiket. She never deserved even the slightest bit of pain. However, as King Shlomo tells us in Kohelet, no one goes through an entire lifetime without some sort of sin. Miriam's flaw, as small as it was, came many years into her illustrious life. She was now imperfect, and deserved some sort of retribution, which came in the form of tzaraat. This would be the low point of her life. The entire nation became aware of her private conversation, and must have lost some of their great respect for her. "She is just like us; she's imperfect." Hashem had to act to clear things up.

"If a talmid chacham sins at night," our Sages inform us, "don't think ill of him in the morning, for he certainly did teshuvah." Miriam repented immediately for her error. The sin was erased. However, the laws of tzaraat mandated that she wait the minimum seven days. "Wait with her" the B'nai Yisrael were therefore told. "She is not away from the camp because of her sin, for it no longer exists. She is away to fulfill the Torah's laws of tzaraat."

Just as Miriam had waited for her brother, who was left alone through no fault of his own, she too was to be waited on in her isolation for a sin she was no longer responsible for. Had she still been tainted, she would not have been deserving of such honor. This was the greatest form of respect possible, returning her to the status of a perfect tzaddeiket in this most public showing of honor.

Volume 6 Number 21 21 Sivan 5783 June 10, 2023

This Date in History

~22 Sivan – Miriam Quarantined (1312 BCE). Miriam, the elder sister of Moses and Aaron, was afflicted with tzaraas (leprosy) after speaking negatively of Moses, and was quarantined outside of the camp for seven days. Lashon hara, negative talk, is a sin that has caused numerous tragedies for the Jewish people, and indeed the world, since the very beginning of history. -www.chabad.org

NHBZ Book Club Warms Up for Summer Reading!

Book Club's next book is The Golem and the Jinni: A Novel, by Helene Wecker. The book will be discussed on Monday, July 31, 7:15-8:45 PM at the home of Sharon Summers. Combining the genre of historical fiction with elements of fantasy, this inventive and delightful novel tells the story of two displaced magical creatures in 19th century New York City.

Вена'aloscha: "Speak Lower, I Can't Hear You"

He (G-d) said, "Please hear my words..." (Numbers 12:6)

Miriam and Aharon spoke lashon hara, derogatory speech, against Moshe. Although they had not acted with malice, in fact speaking more out of concern for Moshe's welfare, G-d's anger flared up and He rebuked them. However, when G-d addressed them He spoke in a very soft tone, starting: "Please hear My words..." The Sifsei Chachamim explains that even though G-d was angry at Miriam and Aharon, He still spoke to them in a soft tone, for if He would have spoken to them in a harsh and angry tone, His words would not have been heeded.

When a person is spoken to harshly he feels under attack. His pride is at stake and he therefore does not fully hear what is being said. If G-d was careful in how He spoke to Miriam and Aharon who were prophets, then how much more so should we speak carefully to our spouses, colleagues, or acquaintances. Even when one must confront an enemy, or admonish someone for a terrible misdeed, one should speak gently, for gentle words have a greater effect than words that are shouted and screamed. King Solomon teaches "A soft answer turns away wrath." While one provocative remark can kindle anger, even the most intense fury can be soothed by a gentle word. Always remember: the louder the word the quieter it is heard.

- by Rabbi Eli Scheller, www.aish.com

Pesach Sheni testifies that no matter how far we may have strayed, no matter what distant road we may have traversed, G-d will always accept us if we indicate our yearning to come home. This then, is our choice: We can reinvent ourselves, or we can remain mired in our failures. It's all up to us.

- from Rebbetzin Esther Jungreis

Ladies, remember an essential part of our Sisterhood Mission is to support our shul and our community. A foundation of our shul and our community is prayer – and our daily minyan is the optimal vehicle for prayer for our community. To help strengthen and support our minyan, be an influencer . Encourage the men in your life – husbands, sons, brothers, in-laws – to commit to regularly attending one, two, three or more minyanim each week. Your encouragement can make the difference to help inspire the guys to fulfill this vital mitzvah. And, of course, you can attend too!
